

Rebekah Bernard, MD, FAAFP is a family physician in Fort Myers, Florida. She is the co-founder of Physicians for Patient Protection, an advocacy group focused on physician-led care, and currently serves on the Florida Medical Association executive board. She is the author of four books on health-related topics including physician wellness and scope of practice.